WHAT IS ACCESS?

ACCESS is a “bridge to college” program designed to improve students’ academic performance and assist in their transition from high school to college.

ACCESS has two components. The first is a summer program with an exciting seven-week residential, academic enhancement experience designed for the seriously motivated student. It is an intensive, highly structured academic program commonly referred to as an “academic boot camp.”

The ACCESS summer program provides skills-based instruction daily in nontraditional classes in mathematics, reading comprehension, writing, critical thinking and problem solving. Five nights a week the students participate in structured workshops and study halls.

Complementing the weekly classroom instruction are off-campus field experiences designed to enhance and bring relevance to the academic studies. These activities are critical in the development of leadership, personal/social and cultural enrichment skills needed for success in college and in the world of work.

In the fall, ACCESS students who attend PVAMU enter into the second component, University College (UC). UC is a structured, nurturing, academically focused environment that seeks to make the freshman year a successful one by providing intrusive, holistic, professional advisement, academic enhancement, centralized support services and a residential learning community.

ACCESS HIGHLIGHTS

• 90% of the ACCESS summer component graduates go on to attend college in the fall.
• ACCESS students are retained through their sophomore year at a rate above the PVAMU average and the state average.
• ACCESS students are leaders on campus. They are involved in all activities from athletics to student government.
• The ACCESS program was awarded a $1.5 million federal grant in 1998 and a $430K grant in 2001.
• ACCESS was a 2002 Star Award finalist.
• ACCESS was a 2003 Star Award winner.
