PRAIRIE VIEW A&M UNIVERSITY CAPITAL CAMPAIGN

In 2002, the University began its first-ever comprehensive capital campaign, a five-year, $30 million campaign, EXTEND THE VIEW: Shape tomorrow today.

Throughout the six-year period, PVAMU's EXTEND THE VIEW campaign secured private contributions from state, regional and national communities to provide support for merit-based student scholarships; faculty chair endowments; research laboratories, equipment and technology; building renovations and historical preservation; student support services, athletic scholarship endowments and general university endowments.

The campaign was scheduled to end December 2007; however, in November 2007, the Capital Campaign Cabinet members voted to extend the closing date to the end of 2008. As the campaign drew to a close, more than $32 million was received, surpassing the original goal by nine percent. Nearly two-thirds of the campaign contributions were designated for student initiatives and faculty enrichment. Funds that specifically support endowed scholarships and faculty endowed chairs are matched dollar-for-dollar with additional funds provided by the State of Texas.

Campaign Total $32,584,128

- Other $2,316,376
- University Match $8,110,634
- Gifts by Donors $22,157,118

Message from the President

It is with deep gratitude that we celebrate Prairie View A&M University's successful completion of its EXTEND THE VIEW: Shape Tomorrow Today capital campaign. We have raised $32.6 million in cash, gifts and pledges in support of the institution's first-ever capital project. Because of your generous commitment to the University, we are able to celebrate the success of this effort and the everlasting benefits it brings.

In 2002, following an extensive feasibility study involving alumni, friends, community leaders and university administrators, the decision was made to launch this major fundraising endeavor. During this pivotal time in the University's history supporters hoped that a campaign of this magnitude would help publicize and promote the accomplishments during the institution's legacy. By garnering support from key constituents and former students, PVAMU could leverage its needs as the competition for limited educational dollars from local and state governments intensified.

Additionally, PVAMU's participation in the Texas Office of Civil Rights settlement, resulted in the Texas Commitment funding which offered dollar-for-dollar matching for all monies received and earmarked for endowed scholarships and endowed faculty chairs.

Indeed, it is the generosity of alumni, friends, faculty and staff, students, corporations, foundations and other supporters that made an impact and helped us achieve our goal and ensure that we continue our mission of excellence in teaching, research and service.

This EXTEND THE VIEW summary highlights some of the events, activities and many accomplishments of the campaign. I hope you enjoyed the journey as much as we did and encourage you to learn more about PVAMU by visiting our campus facilities and our website at www.pvamu.edu

Thank you again for your support,

George C. Wright

2006 The University highlighted one of its most distinguished engineering graduates with the official naming ceremony of the School of Architecture's Nathelyne Archie Kennedy Building. Kennedy '59 was the University's first female engineering graduate and the first black female in Texas to be licensed as a professional engineer (P.E.).

2006 The Texas A&M University System Board of Regents authorized the naming of the Opal Johnson Smith Auditorium in the Prairie View A&M University Memorial Student Center. PVAMU alumna and retired Dallas Independent School District administrator, Opal Johnson Smith '54, served 35 years in the Texas public education system after earning a bachelor's degree in mathematics in 1954.

2006 Prairie View A&M University dedicated the Julius W. Becton, Jr. Auditorium in the Alvin I. Thomas Administration Building for alumnus and former PVAMU president Lt. Gen. (Ret.) Julius W. Becton, Jr. '60. General Becton served as the fifth president of the University from 1989-1994.

2007 During the 33rd Prairie View A&M University National Alumni Association convention, PVAMU officials hosted a naming dedication ceremony for the Willie Albert Tempton Sr. Memorial Student Center in honor of alumnus and former interim University president, Col. (Ret.) Willie Albert Tempton, Sr. '61.

2007 During its 2007 Homecoming celebration, Prairie View A&M University dedicated the Elmer E. O'Banion Science Building. Dr. O'Banion served as chairman of the department of natural sciences at Prairie View A&M University for more than 25 years.

2007 The academic division known as the College of Education was named the Whitlowe Radcliffe Green College of Education. Green, who retired from the Houston Independent School District, graduated from the Prairie View A&M College of Texas in 1936. Upon his death, he left $2.1 million to PVAMU to establish merit-based scholarships in human sciences, social behavioral and political sciences, business and nursing. This is the largest estate gift in the University's history.

2007 During PVAMU's 2007 Homecoming celebration, the University hosted a name dedication ceremony for the Samuel Metters Auditorium located in the Nathelyne Archie Kennedy Building. PVAMU alumnus Dr. Metters '57, is chairman and CEO of Metters Industries, Inc. and founder and former president of the Prairie View A&M University National Alumni Association.

2008 The University hosted a name dedication ceremony for the Leroy G. Moore, Jr. Intramural Gymnasium on the floor of the gymnasium. Dr. Leroy G. Moore, Jr. served as Prairie View's head basketball coach from 1956 through 1969 winning several championships.

2008 Prairie View A&M University hosted a naming ceremony for the Marvin D. and June Samuel Brailsford College of Arts and Sciences. The Brailsfords are both PVAMU alums who have been pioneers in their efforts to garner major support and funding for the University.

2009 PVAMU hosted a naming ceremony for the Roy G. Perry College of Engineering. Alumnus Roy G. Perry '78 was honored for his achievements in engineering, technology, philanthropy and entrepreneurship.

▶ In early 2009, PVAMU hosted a name dedication ceremony for the Don K. Clark Building. The building houses the College of Juvenile Justice and Psychology and the Texas Juvenile Crime Prevention Center. Clark's '67 name and his thirty-five years of service in law enforcement, security and counterterrorism will now inspire future generations of students pursuing careers in law enforcement, juvenile research and psychology.

All Those Who Gave

Alumni and Alumni Organizations

Throughout the campaign period all constituent groups supported the specialized fundraising effort with donations, however, Prairie View A&M University alumni sent a strong message by giving more than $6.7 million. These contributions led all private source gifts and exceed the original goal by $2 million. It is clear that former students hold this institution near to their hearts. Alumni throughout the years have said, "Where would I be without PVAMU?," and now they have proven it.

◀ President Dr. George C. Wright presents Pastor Ralph Douglas West of The Church Without Walls with the 2007 President's View & Vision award in recognition of his unyielding support and contributions to PVAMU.

Faculty and Staff Giving

The decision to begin the capital campaign with the Faculty and Staff Gift phase was purely by design; these individuals represent the mainstay of the University. Faculty members and staff persons possess the most intimate knowledge of the institution and interact with the University's constituents – students and alumni. Their contributions varied and include donations to endowed scholarships, the University's general fund, athletics, faculty chairs and students services.

The Numbers

Total Giving $672,300

Average Gift $340

Participating PVAMU Employees 32%

▲ The contributions of Joseph D. Harrison, storekeeper II, and Dr. Clarissa G. Booker '68, professor, helped PVAMU reach the capital campaign goal.

◀ The 2008 Gala celebrated the 90-year anniversary of the University's College of Nursing. PVAMU President Emeritus Alvin I. Thomas, Ph.D. and Texas Medical Center President Richard Wainerdi, Ph.D., served as honorary co-chairs. Past president of the National Association of Black Nurses, Bettye Davis-Lewis '59, was the honorary host.

All Those Who Gave Endowments

Endowed funds provide a constant source of income over time, which the University can depend on for scholarships, general support and earmark for long-range planning. Unlike other gifts, which are expended for short-term needs, gifts to the endowment are invested and the principal is held in perpetuity. Endowed funds are typically dedicated to particular purposes, consistent with donor desires, such as faculty chairs and professorships, or student endowed scholarships. Throughout the campaign, seventy-seven named endowments were created with a minimum investment of $5,000. Interest generated from the principal endowment fund is used to create scholarships for PVAMU students.
